Roy Sprague, Earl Brubaker, and Richard Bargas

♦ LEADERSHIP TRANSITION

The process of pastoral transition involves important and crucial decisions as one seeks to identify God's leading in ministry. Sometimes transitions work smoothly, while at other times there can be confusion and conflict that can lead to a challenging and disruptive outcome. This panel discussion will seek to answer questions, such as, "When is it time for a pastor to leave a church? When is it time to stay" – "How can a pastor leave in a gracious and helpful way, setting up the next pastor for success?" – "Can or should a retiring pastor stay in a church? If so, what cautions would be appropriate?" The goal of this panel discussion is to help clarify these questions and give some encouraging guidelines when it comes to pastoral transition.

Steve Wheeler

President, White Fields Ministry

♦ PASTORS NEED TO BE SHEPHERDS

Steve served as senior preaching pastor for ten years while volunteering as a Board Member of White Fields. He understands the heart of the pastoral ministry, starting new churches and all the difficulties pastors face serving as shepherds. He will be conducting a workshop on Tuesday afternoon, giving insights from Ephesians 4:11,12.
