WOMEN'S SPEAKER

Daisy
Wong

Daisy was born and raised in the San Francisco Bay Area. She has been married to Steve for 34 years, has four grown daughters, two son-in-laws, and a grandchild on the way. Daisy serves alongside her husband in ministry, leading women's Bible studies, prayer groups, life groups, and retreats. During the pandemic, she began teaching piano and selling succulents as a way to build relationships in her community.

In a two-part series, she will address the women on what it looks like to grow healthy in our walk with the Lord. It is important to not just survive, but to thrive, in our relationship with the Lord and with others. Whether it's an individual or a whole community, God can use us to impact others for His kingdom.
